America Queen can return to winning ways at Pontefract

By Nick Grant, Press Association Sport

America Queen has a fine chance of returning to winning ways when she lines up for the EBF Sky Bet Club Flying Fillies' Stakes at Pontefract. The Richard Hughes-trained three-year-old has pretty much spent her career to date competing in top company since winning her maiden by 12 lengths at Haydock in July last year. That saw her head to the Lowther at York, where only

Royal Fixation proved too good, and she ended the campaign with fourth to True Love in the Cheveley Park, beaten less than three lengths. Second in the Nell Gwyn on her reappearance, Hughes was left fuming when she was denied a run in the Irish 1,000 Guineas by the on-course veterinary team at the Curragh. She instead went to Royal Ascot, where she was midfield in the Jersey, and most recently she ran with credit behind Flora Of Bermuda at York. This is nowhere near the level of those assignments and ground conditions promise to be ideal. Darzah can strike for William Haggas and Cieren Fallon in the Sky Bet For The Fans Fillies' Handicap. This is an interesting affair, despite only five runners, and it sees the selection clash again with Luna Celeste. The score is one-all but while Luna Celeste won the day the last time they met, Darzah clearly did not give her running. Haggas and Fallon have hopes of a West Yorkshire double, with High Degree a likely type in the Sky Bet Price Boosts Handicap. Diamonds foryou could make her mark at the first time of asking when she goes in the Enter ITV7 For Free EBF Novice Stakes. A daughter of St Mark's Basilica, the Richard and Peter Fahey-trained youngster is exceptionally well bred and is a half-sister to Catching The Moon, a Group Three winner for the same connections and who runs in the America Queen race. Palladas looks very much the one to beat in division one of the LNAA Critical Care Novice Stakes at Southwell. The Charlie Appleby-trained son of Lope De Vega has not been seen since his debut at Kempton in January, the form of which has held up well, not least by the runner-up Al Adz, who has turned out to be pretty useful. Yaa Min carries on in consistent form and should be thereabouts in the Newark Advertiser Handicap. Rising star Jack Callan gets on well with Hayley Burton's four-year-old and is back on board for the first time since they won together at Lingfield in May. A bonus for terrestrial viewers is four races live on ITV4 from a quality card at the Curragh. The feature at Irish headquarters is the Group Three Newbridge Silverware Royal Whip Stakes, where Donnacha O'Brien's A Boy Named Susie brings standout form to the table. Fourth to Constitution River in the French Derby, the Starspangledbanner colt was then best of the rest behind Aidan O'Brien's superstar in the Eclipse. In the William Hill Irish EBF Juvenile Sprint Stakes, Concorde Landed can recoup recent losses from Naas. Sent off the 6-5 favourite, she could only manage fourth to bigger-priced stablemate Big Negotiator, but trainer Paddy Twomey was still upbeat about her in the aftermath.
