BACK BENTLEY TO CRUISE TO VICTORY

By Tony Kelshaw, PA

Bentley's Return paid the price for a bad mistake when fading to finish awell-beaten third at Fontwell on his first run over hurdles but can make amendsat Plumpton.The five-year-old did, however, show enough that day to suggest he is capableof better and runner-up Baltray franked the form by scoring at Hereford nexttime out.Chris Gordon's charge was placed in a couple of bumpers last term, when lookingsure to appreciate a longer trip over timber, so he is worth sticking with inthe Weatherbys & Birdie Calendars Maiden Hurdle.Heros showed a willing spirit to outbattle the race-fit Non Stop when switchingto fences at Taunton and is taken to follow up in the Betgoodwin Supports UKRacing Novices' Handicap Chase. He has been raised 6lb for that success but is entitled to improve for a first outing since May and is still potentially well treated on his hurdles form in France from a couple of years ago. Gold Clermont is a proven performer at this course and appeals in the Betgoodwin Handicap Chase for local handler Andy Irvine. The seven-year-old mare had two wins and a second over fences here last season and has had a respectable blow-out over hurdles this term. The Height Of Fame flourished for the fitting of new headgear when hacking up by just under 10 lengths at Wincanton and can defy a 7lb uplift in the Weatherby's Shop.co.uk Mares' Handicap Hurdle. Electric Mason is of interest in the Betgoodwin Tom Cannon Open National Hunt Flat Race after staying on to finish third behind Celtic Dino in an Ascot bumper last month. He was bought for #110,000 following a promising second in the Irish point-to-point sphere, with conqueror Break My Soul fetching #290,000. The BetMGM: It's Showtime EBF Fillies' Handicap is the feature event on Wolverhampton's all-weather Flat card and Aramis Grey is fancied to carry top-weight to victory. Rae Guest's charge finished well when third in the London Sprint Series Final at Kempton last time out and is an eight-time scorer on artificial surfaces, including a couple of strikes at this venue. Fieldsman has been given a little break since a modest seventh here towards the end of September, which was his first run on an artificial surface since May. Tony Carroll's evergreen 11-year-old is now 16lb lower than his last winning mark at Brighton 18 months ago and it would be lovely to see him add to his 12 career victories from 122 starts in the second division of the Stay Golden With BetMGM Safer Gambling Handicap. God Of Thunder got off the mark in fine style when romping home last month and can follow up in the Always Gamble Responsibly With BetUK Handicap over the same course and distance. That was the four-year-old's first outing for 193 days and Richard Hannon will be hoping his charge has now fully matured physically and mentally.
