Bossman Jack to take charge at Carlisle

By Gideon Brooks, Press Association

Dan Skelton has made no secret of how high he believes Bossman Jack could climb over fences and he has a fine chance to make a winning start in the Vesta Wealth Galloping Gains "Chasing Excellence" Novices' Chase at Carlisle. Unlike parched courses elsewhere the Cumbrian venue has been fortunate enough to produce safe jumping ground all season and, once again, they have been rewarded with a beefed up and, in parts, classy entry. Nowhere more so than in the novice chase with Bossman Jack sitting at the top of the tree both in terms of potential and achievement over hurdles, the pick of which being his last two runs in the Turners Novices' Hurdle at the Cheltenham Festival and the Mersey Novices' Hurdle at Aintree. On the first of those, he would have been closer than just over four lengths sixth to King Rasko Grey but for a shuddering handbrake of a mistake at the last. Yet on Merseyside he rectified that in style, winning the Grade One over two and a half miles by five and a half lengths going away at the finish, prompting Skelton to talk him up as a potential top-notcher, even mentioning Gold Cups when he goes over fences. This is a first step to that and despite the presence of several 130-plus winning hurdlers moving up to the larger obstacles with him, this half-brother to the smart Gidleigh Park has the scope to make a real name for himself in this sphere. Doyen Du Bar looks fairly treated over hurdles off a mark of 122 given he finished last season winning a handicap chase over this trip at Kelso by 10 lengths off 131. For a 10-year-old Nicky Richard's gelding has relatively few miles on the clock and with a win first time out in his bumper and novice hurdle campaigns indicating he can be readied at home he can do so again here. True, 12st 2lb is a burden to carry on your seasonal debut but he lumped just 1lb lower around Kelso in that comfortable win and looks strong enough to do it again in the DJ Bell Celebration Handicap Hurdle. The trainers' championship title may be out of reach for Andrew Balding in his battle with Aidan O'Brien but his Allaire could reduce the deficit slightly in the AWC Season 14 Has Begun Fillies' Novice Stakes at Southwell. The Kingsclere runner has been an expensive horse to follow, hitting the podium without winning in five of her six races, but she appeared to take a step forward last time at Kempton and a reproduction of that effort may be enough in a weak race. Priapos won two out of four last November and December on the all-weather last year at Newcastle and judged on a strong-finishing return to sand at the north east track last time this likeable four-year-old could be ready to go in again. The four-year-old was well handled by Phillip Makin to win two races on turf both at Carlisle but returns to the sand in the AWC Finals Day At Newcastle 26th March Handicap at Southwell on a mark just 1lb higher than the last of those in June. At Limerick Gavin Cromwell's recent Galway third Marble Hill looks worth waiting for in the concluding Limerick (Ladies Pro/Am) Flat Race, the last race on a tricky card at the west of Ireland track.
