Byron can Lord it over Carlisle rivals

By Josh Luckhurst, Press Association

Lord Byron is an eye-catching runner at Carlisle as the classy novice hurdler switches to the level for the first time for Faye Bramley. The four-year-old had a busy campaign over the obstacles in the winter and spring, operating at the highest level at the Cheltenham, Aintree and most recently Punchestown. He went down by a head to King Rasko Grey on his last appearance in the Grade One Champion Novice Hurdle in Ireland and operates at an official mark of 147 over hurdles. However, he will return to Flat racing having started his career with Ballydoyle master Aidan O'Brien - for whom he had two runs - before switching to Bramley last year. The latter of those is appealing as Lord Byron notched a runner-up finish over a mile and six furlongs, so the three-furlong drop in trip in the LPD Maiden Stakes should pose no problem before he no doubt heads back over timber. William Haggas has been in fine form this month so it is hard to look past handicap newcomer Fast Performer in the Andersons - Quality For The Home Nursery Handicap. A runner-up on his first start at Nottingham, the son of Showcasing could only finish midfield at Newmarket on his latest appearance when going off as an odds-on favourite. Softer conditions could be a positive for the juvenile as he stays over six furlongs, in addition to Haggas' brilliant strike-rate in the early days of September. Lex Victoria can defy a 7lb penalty and maintain her unbeaten start to her career on the all-weather at Kempton. Simon and Ed Crisford's daughter of Sioux Nation held off Thi Qar by neck for a winning debut last month, with the John and Thady Gosden-trained runner-up going down by the same distance on her second appearance last week. Connections clearly think a lot of Lex Victoria, who has Rockfel and Fillies' Mile entries, and another victory could boost her chances of a step up to Group territory next time out. Oisin Murphy is also booked to ride the €1.1 million purchase. Jack Mitchell will ride Noozhaa on her racecourse debut as she looks to emulate her half-brother Meydaan with a winning start in the Unibet Supporting Safer Gambling Fillies' Novice Stakes. Mitchell also rode Meydaan on his first outing, on the synthetics at Newcastle in November 2023, so it could be a good omen for Roger Varian's charge. The Pinatubo filly faces stiff opposition in George Boughey's new recruit Enchanted Queen and Haggas' Yimmna, but it is worth a punt on the Sheikh Ahmed Al Maktoum-owned three-year-old. At Redcar, Lucky Hero can complete a hat-trick of victories in the racingtv.com/Freetrial Handicap for David O'Meara. Since stepping up to a mile and two furlongs in July, the Lucky Vega gelding has finished third at Ripon before a confident five-length triumph over course and distance and a three-length win at Newmarket. Lucky Hero is clearly in a rich vein of form and claimer Conor Whiteley, aboard for the Redcar success, will help offset the 10lb climb. Loriko can handle top weight and secure his fourth victory in five starts this season in the Sedgefield Racecourse For Outdoor Events Handicap Hurdle. The five-year-old has shown his versatility over his winning stretch, with triumphs between two miles and an extended two-and-a-half so the trip should not be an issue in North Yorkshire. Dan Skelton, who has brother Harry in the saddle, will have been pleased to see Loriko remain on a mark of 125 following his latest narrow win at Market Rasen and he should take all the beating.
