Mobsta to strike gold at Windsor

By Chris Wilson, Press Association Sport

It would be a crime not to back Mobsta in the big race of the day at Windsor. Mick Channon's sprinter returned from the shadows with a really encouraging performance at Doncaster last month. And that run should set him up beautifully for the Sky Bet Windsor Sprint Series Handicap. Perhaps the most important thing in Mobsta's weaponry is his ability to cope with extremely conditions, as his four career victories, which included a Group Two in May 2016, were all achieved on soft ground. Moreover, his fourth-placed finished in a valuable six-furlong handicap on his comeback again showed his competence when the mud is flying. That run deserves closer scrutiny than simply analysing the bare facts as the gelded son of Bushranger missed the break. He then encountered a rough old passage inside the final furlong and lost significant momentum. Be that as it may, Mobsta was still only beaten a length and a half by Naadirr, so that must surely rate as a sound effort. This six-furlong dash lacks the strength in depth of that Doncaster affair, while Channon will be most satisfied that his inmate has been left alone on an appealing mark of 88. And with champion jockey Silvestre de Sousa back at the helm, Mobsta looks the proverbial winner waiting to happen. De Sousa should double up with Bombero in the preceding mile-and-a-quarter handicap. The race-fit four-year-old reports for duty just five days after he went close in a mile-and-three-furlong handicap at Kempton. Bombero attempted to make the running on that occasion, but the horse was a shade too keen so De Sousa will be keen to get him more settled. That could be half the battle as this heavy-ground winner will have no problems with conditions, having previously finished second in an apprentice handicap at Doncaster last month. It will be interesting to see how Spanish History gets on in the concluding one-mile handicap on the Windsor card. The four-year-old gelding has not raced for 189 days and yet he must shoulder joint-top weight. He did win nicely over a mile at this track last October and is the least exposed thoroughbred in this humdrum line-up. Spanish History will also have the assistance of Jamie Spencer, which is never considered a bad thing. Delire D'Estruval can make the most of having his sights lowered at Kelso. Ben Pauling's charge has won twice this season, including a Listed contest at Haydock, but the Martin Pipe Conditional Jockeys' Hurdle at Cheltenham proved a bridge too far. He has far less on his plate in the Duncan & Margaret Sinclair Memorial Novices' Hurdle, however, and should make the most of the opportunity.

SELECTIONS:

KELSO:	2.10 Delire D'Estruval, 2.40 Road To Gold, 3.10 So Satisfied, 3.40 Silver Tassie, 4.10 John Williams, 4.40 Chanceiton, 5.10 Tetrates Style.
