Rain can prove a pain to Greatwood rivals

By Chris Phillips, Press Association

Let It Rain can launch her season in fine style by landing the Unibet Greatwood Handicap Hurdle at Cheltenham. The Kayf Tara mare has been off the track for 251 days since winning a Stratford handicap in March where she finished strongly to pull away and beat Comanche Magic by one and a quarter lengths. The form of that race does not look too bad as the third Mr McLoughlan won earlier this month on his stable debut for new handler Adrian Keatley. She was only beaten three-quarters of a length into third in an Ascot handicap when she debuted last season after more than a year on the sidelines before being pulled up in the valuable William Hill Hurdle at Newbury where she did not like the heavy ground. But back on a more favourable surface and only raised 6lb for her Stratford victory the lightly-raced Dan Skelton-trained seven-year-old can launch her season in the best possible fashion in the hands of Harry Skelton. Havaila is hoping to pick up where he left off last season in the Oddschecker Handicap Chase after swerving a valuable Ascot handicap late last month. The Jamie and Josh Moore-trained gelding enjoyed a strong finish to the last campaign as he readily won at Newbury and followed it up with another impressive victory in the Sussex National at Plumpton. That saw him step up in grade for the biggest win of his career in the bet365 Gold Cup at Sandown when in a tight finish he held off Our Power and Road To Home by a short head and neck respectively. He only has another 4lb burden for that win and he can complete the four-timer. New Grange can build on an impressive rules debut and make it two from two in the Listed Three Counties Christmas Open NH Flat Race. The Walk In The Park gelding caught plenty of eyes when winning a point-to-point in Ireland by 24 lengths and was equally impressively when he hit the racecourse for the first time at Listowel, scooting clear by seven-and-a-half lengths.
He had plenty in hand that day as he was eased down in the final half-furlong by Patrick Mullins and with the assistance of Harry Cobden on this occasion he can again show he has plenty of class. Crystal Island will tackle fences for the first time in the WKD Novices' Limited Handicap Chase having never tasted defeat so far in his career. The five-year-old did the business on his only point start and made a seamless switch to timber, winning both of his hurdles races last season at Ascot and Ffos Las. But now switched to the larger obstacles, the Nicky Henderson-trained son of Crystal Ocean can maintain that momentum at Prestbury Park. Chris Gordon's Bass Hunter made an impressive start to his career over timber last month and can double up in the Stonex Bullion Novices' Hurdle at Fontwell. He won a Listed Ascot bumper in December and was far from disgraced in the championship event at the Festival in March when a two-and-a-quarter-length third to The Mourne Rambler. A line can be drawn through his final start of the season at Aintree in what seemed a race to far for the Authorized gelding. But he returned with a bang at Plumpton, proving far too good for the field and cantering to an eight-and-a-half length victory and again should have too much up his sleeve for his rivals.
