JUST CALL ME ANGEL COULD HAVE

ITALY CALLING ONCE MORE

By Josh Luckhurst, Press Association

Just Call Me Angel could continue her Italian adventure after trainer Ed Dunlop said his Classic-winning filly may return for the Oaks d'Italia next month. The daughter of Dark Angel was impressive in her first appearance at San Siro last October, winning by two and a quarter lengths to land a Group Two on her final start as a juvenile. She returned to the Milan track for the Italian 1000 Guineas earlier this month and held off Marco Botti's Lizzana by half a length in the hands of Jason Hart. Although plans are not set in stone, Dunlop hinted at a possible run on home soil over an extended trip before heading back to Italy for a crack at the Group Two contest over a mile and three furlongs on June 21. ``She's great, she's come out of the race really well. She's a tough filly,`` he said. ``It was her second trip to Italy - she won the Dormello and now the Guineas - so she's done very well. We actually took the race on a lot further out than we wanted to, but she held on well. ``We aren't totally certain what the plans are, but the Italian Oaks will come into consideration. We may well run in England before then, but we will see. ``I think she will get further than a mile, she has that demeanour, but we aren't certain yet. ``We may well run her in the Oaks trial - the Height of Fashion (at Goodwood) - albeit she will have to carry a penalty, to see about the trip and if she does stay well, we will take the Italian race into serious consideration.' LEGACY LOOKS SECURE OPTION IN MUSIDORA By Nick Robson, Press Association Legacy Link can confirm the promise she showed last season by winning the Tattersalls Musidora Stakes at York. John and Thady Gosden have some real strength in depth this season among their three-year-old colts and fillies, but through the winter Legacy Link was always regarded as potentially one of the best. That is because the last time she was seen in action she was running on strongly in the Fillies' Mile, having either been caught flat-footed or become unbalanced in the dip. Once she met the rising ground she really caught the eye after looking like she would drop away tamely. With that in mind she should thrive for the extra two furlongs down the long Knavesmire straight and the Gosden team have always been aiming to bring her back here before hopefully heading to Epsom. The yard has an excellent record in the race, too. Richard Hannon's Aramram looks much improved this season and could be about to peak in the Go Local Stores Minster Stakes. While several of his rivals will be using this as a stepping stone to Royal Ascot, Hannon's hope has already had two runs this season and should be fighting fit. He reappeared for his first run at five in the Listed Cammidge Trophy at Doncaster where he comfortably beat Jasour by a length. That form probably needed improving on to consider him for a race like this but he was a bit of an unlucky loser in the Abernant at Newmarket, when the race developed away from him on the far side before he flashed home for second. His last three runs have all been career bests and he might just catch a few of these cold at a fancy price. The string of William Haggas has really clicked into gear in recent weeks and Klassleader can add another to his impressive strike-rate in the Sky Bet Race To The Ebor Jorvik Handicap. It is a well worn cliché that Haggas loves nothing more than a winner at York, when in fact that is true of all trainers as the prize-money is so good, but Haggas does seem to target the meetings there. A winner of one of his four races to date, he has so much more scope to improve this season than many of his rivals. Back down at a mile and a half for this first run of the season, it will be very surprising if he does not end the campaign rated higher than his current mark of 90. Binhareer also holds sound claims for the same Haggas-Tom Marquand combination in the Churchill Tyres Handicap. He was last seen winning over the same course and distance in the Coral Sprint Trophy in October and while he reappears off a 10lb higher mark rarely do you see a #100,000 race won with such authority. The latest millionaire for Amo Racing makes her debut in the Download The At The Races App Maiden Fillies' Stakes at Yarmouth. A daughter of Night Of Thunder out of No Speak Alexander, who won the Matron Stakes for Jessica Harrington, this Kevin Philippart de Foy-trained E1,000,000 yearling has all the right credentials.
