Marronnier has already demonstrated his liking for Sandown and can strike there for a second time in the Hampton Court Handicap.

The Esher track stages a classy card, including a highly-competitive field of juveniles in the Listed British Stallion Studs EBF Star Stakes.

It is in the mile-and-a-quarter handicap a little more than an hour later, though, that Stuart Williams' course-and-distance winner Marronnier seeks to follow up his success here just under three weeks ago.

The three-year-old sprang a minor surprise that day, and has gone up 4lb for his trouble.

Marronnier has acquired the services of Oisin Murphy for the first time, and he may well help to give his jockey a decent afternoon in his pursuit of this year's title.

The gelding clearly relished his step up in trip on this stiff track last time, and it is an obvious move to send him back on a repeat mission.

Marronnier was quick enough to score at seven furlongs last October, but each of his four runs en route to Sandown indicated he would surely improve for the extra distance - and so it proved.

He has lightly-raced hat-trick seeker Match Maker to contend with this time, but receives almost a stone from Simon Crisford's four-year-old and should make it count.

In the opening Martin Densham Memorial EBF Maiden Stakes, none would surely begrudge connections of Star Of Wells a poignant debut success following the loss of their brilliant dual Group One-winning filly Sea Of Class.

William Haggas' Sea The Stars colt has fair prospects on the basis of his parentage alone - but in a race packed with the colours of high-profile owners, perhaps Andrew Balding and Qatar Racing's Kameko is most likely to do himself full justice at the first attempt.

Murphy's presence in the saddle is, of course, no detriment - and he will be lending assistance too when the Queen's Space Walk bids to give Haggas a welcome winner in the Young Stayers Handicap.

Space Walk ground it out well to win over a mile and a half on his third career outing in a Haydock maiden last month, a performance full of promise that he can cut it against these more experienced rivals up in trip on handicap debut.

In the preceding and aforementioned Listed event, the six fillies have won seven of the 10 races they have collectively contested.

Romsey is one of just three to have so far tasted defeat, on debut before winning an all-weather maiden decisively at Chelmsford at her second attempt.

She too has Murphy on board, and may offer value in a contest full of obvious potential. Not quite as much to get excited about at Yarmouth, but Fragrant Dawn and Ample Plenty may nonetheless be of interest.

Fragrant Dawn has yet to hint at the ability which made her former namesake Champion Chase class in the early 1990s, but she may still be good enough in the John Kemp 4 X 4 Centre Of Norwich Maiden Handicap.

Charlie Hills' filly has run with credit on all five starts, and this looks a trip and level at which she could well open her account.

Ample Plenty had a distant view of some useful opponents in three quick novice runs late last year, before getting much closer to the shake-up on handicap debut.

She returns after a six-month break in a very winnable race. There is a prompt start to Newbury's eight-race evening card, thanks to two divisions of the opening amateur riders' handicap.

But it may be worth letting the early skirmishes work themselves out and instead waiting to support Incredible for Haggas in the Relyon Cleaning Newbury Handicap.
