Un Sens A La Vie can come out on top at Warwick

By Nick Grant, Press Association

There may only be two horses in the Stan Mellor Memorial 'Chasing Excellence' Beginners' Chase at Warwick but it is a fascinating duel where Un Sens A La Vie is taken to come out on top against Loriko.

Both are rated exactly the same on 133 and they carry the exact same weight so if the handicapper is right there should be very little between them.

Of course, racing is not an exact science with living animals involved, and in any case, both horses have earned their ratings over hurdles and now go jumping fences.

That is why Nigel and Willy Twiston-Davies' Un Sens A La Vie is taken to prevail, as he is less exposed and just looks more of a chasing type.

With Loriko, who is only five, it appears he has reached his ceiling over hurdles having been well beaten the last twice whereas his sole rival won on his return to action at Market Rasen and has more to offer.

Playful Fox is highly likely to win again before the handicapper catches up with him so has to be the pick in the Jets Richard Davis Awards Handicap Chase.

He is unexposed over fences – certainly at this two-and-a-half-mile trip, his first run at the distance in well over a year – and it helps he represents the unstoppable Dan Skelton outfit.

Odds-on when last seen, Ballymoreen will hopefully take the beating once again in the Alex & Edward Alder Handicap Hurdle.

There is also jumping action at Sedgefield where Brian Ellison's recent Wetherby runner-up Jambearee can put hurdling experience to good use to get off the mark in the Green Howards Museum Richmond Juvenile Hurdle.

The winner of that event appeared above average and for the Ellison youngster to get so close was incredibly encouraging.

Charlie Longsdon's Roxy Russet was deemed good enough to run in Grade Two bumper company at the back-end of last season and could go one better than a promising hurdles debut when second at Fontwell when stepping up in distance for the MW Civils And Groundworks Mares' Maiden Hurdle.

Meanwhile, Treaty Boy may be up 9lb for his recent win at Kelso but that might not be enough to stop the commanding 14-length victor following up in the Sedgefield Racecourse For Outdoor Events Handicap Chase.

Red Blue Point would not be winning out of turn if he can get his head in front in the All Weather Championship Is Back EBF Maiden Stakes at Wolverhampton.

The James Tate-trained colt has shown ability in all three starts to date, notably when fourth to Night Of Vegas in a valuable sales race at Newmarket.

He was a beaten favourite at Windsor after that, but to be fair that was to a Karl Burke one that went close in nursery company at York next time. Politely can make her mark in the AWC Finals Day At Newcastle 26th March Fillies' Handicap.

Her first run for Owen Burrows after a 95-day break and switch from Martyn Meade was not without some merit and her current mark of 82 is only 2lb higher than when successful over this course and distance in April.

Julie Camacho's Brummell can return to winning ways now back on the all-weather in the Midnite Aint Your Grandads Bookie Handicap.

This six-time winner is without a victory this season but the fast ground all summer has not helped and he has two wins on the all-weather at Newcastle to his name. He is also finally below his last winning mark.
