Alexei the ace in Aintree pack

By Nick Robson, Press Association

Not many trainers are operating at a higher strike-rate than Dan Skelton at the moment but one of them is Joe Tizzard, and his Alexei can continue his progression from last season in the William Hill Molyneux Hurdle at Aintree. This Grade Two event has switched venues having previously been run at Wincanton where it was always troubled by small fields – and while only six are set to go to post this weekend, the sole fact alone that Wincanton has been abandoned because of fast ground tells you it was the right move. Those six include the Champion Hurdle fourth in Alexei, the Supreme Novices' Hurdle third Mydaddypaddy from Skelton's yard and Gordon Elliott even sends over an intriguing runner in the filly Mange Tout. She was beaten by Narciso Has at Leopardstown, who many view as a dark horse for the Champion this season, but she skipped Cheltenham before winning the four-year-old Grade One at this track in April, where she beat Selma De Vary who went on to win a Grade One in France. In receipt of age and sex allowances she very nearly got the vote, but the rude health of the Tizzard yard tilted the scales back in Alexei's favour. It is hard to fathom now that he was beaten in the Welsh Champion Hurdle last season off 127 before bolting up off the same mark at Ascot. He then won the Greatwood off 134 before going close behind Wilful, who won the County Hurdle in March, off 147 at Ascot. After adding the Kingwell Hurdle he went to Cheltenham and was not disgraced behind Lossiemouth and bar a mistake at the last could have been second. He possibly failed to see out the trip at Aintree after that and it also came at the end of a long season, but he still ran well. Tizzard thinks the six-year-old has improved and despite giving the weight away, it is the others who need to up their game. Paul Nicholls' great white hope No Drama This End reappears in the Boodles Rising Stars Novices' Chase. Starting life over fences in a Grade Two will not be easy, though, and after flopping at Cheltenham he was all out to win at Perth on his final start over hurdles. Former Ditcheat inmate Talk To The Man looked a natural on his first run over bigger obstacles at Worcester, however, and it could be double heartache for Nicholls. He has spent the early weeks of the season watching several of his former charges win for different trainers and seeing one beat potentially one of his best horses will be hard to take. Skelton has left no one in any doubt that he thinks Kadastral is well treated ahead of the William Hill Best Odds Guaranteed Handicap Chase, while Kikijo looks overpriced in the Pertemps Network Handicap Hurdle for Philip Hobbs and Johnson White based on his wins at Cheltenham and Sandown last season. It is the final day of the Flat turf season at Doncaster where Mick Appleby's Could Angel can progress out of the handicap ranks by winning the Virgin Bet Every Saturday Money Back Wentworth Stakes. The other Listed race on the card, the Virgin Bet Daily Price Boosts Irish EBF Gillies Fillies' Stakes, can go the way of Ralph Beckett's Revoir. It will win no prizes for originality but Richard Hughes' Nobody Knows has plenty going for him in the Virgin Bet November Handicap. He has crept in at the bottom of the weights, Ryan Moore has been booked all week, he has hardly run all summer because he needs soft ground and as the only three-year-old in the race he has much more scope for improvement. The only question mark is stamina, but Hughes has been dying to step him up in trip.
