IL ETAIT TEMPS HAS ASCOT PRIZE AT HIS MERCY

By Nick Robson, Press Association

It is very difficult to envisage Il Etait Temps being beaten in the BetMGM Clarence House Chase at Ascot. Willie Mullins loves sending his top two-milers from Ireland for the Grade One and the brilliant Un De Sceaux won three in a row for him, albeit one took place at Cheltenham. His last victory actually came courtesy of that magnificent horse back in 2018, and in recent years he has relied on Energumene, although the best he could manage was finishing second in an epic to Shishkin in 2022 and he also chased home Jonbon last year. Jonbon is back once more and while it seems harsh to say about a horse yet to finish out of the first two, his best days appear behind him and he had absolutely no answer to Il Etait Temps in the Tingle Creek. Barring accidents, the grey seems to have all bases covered. As long as the ground does not get too soft then Jamie Snowden's bold decision to pitch La Conquiere in against her elders could pay dividends in the BetMGM Mares' Warfield Hurdle. Joe Tizzard's Scarface did little wrong last time out when second over a little bit shorter than the two miles and five furlongs he faces in the Bet365 Handicap Chase. Etalon got loose on the front that day and while Scarface was closing at the line, he just failed. He is 4lb better off with that rival and that, combined with the extra distance, means he can turn the tables. Harry Derham thinks the world of The Burren Man and he can build on his reputation in the BetMGM EBF ``National Hunt'' Novices' Hurdle. It would appear Nicky Henderson's Old Park Star represents Britain's best chance of winning the Supreme Novices' Hurdle this season. He runs in the Sky Bet Supreme Trial Rossington Main Novices' Hurdle at Haydock, where he can cement those claims. Having created a big impression with a 12-length win at Cheltenham last time out, he needs to follow that up but the fact the Haydock ground will be nowhere near as soft as usual for this meeting is in his favour. Hurricane Pat and Japetus are nice horses for the future but the former is giving the selection 2lb and is rated 6lb inferior while the latter needs to take a huge step forward. The Sky Bet Peter Marsh Chase sees the progressive Konfusion in action again - but he is giving weight to Myretown, whose victory at the Festival last year surely represents a stronger piece of form than any race Konfusion has won this season. It is the BetMGM Winter Oaks at Lingfield and the fact Ryan Moore maintains his partnership with John and Thady Gosden's Morrophone is a tip in itself.
