Jonbon has every chance of Shloer Chase hat-trick
By Josh Luckhurst, Press Association

Jonbon can write his name in the history books with a record-breaking third victory in the Shloer Chase at Cheltenham. Nicky Henderson's 10-year-old stalwart is already the joint-most successful winner, alongside Gauvain, Fox Norton and Nube Negra, following his triumphs in 2023 and 2024. He was well beaten by L'Eau Du Sud 12 months ago following a sloppy round of jumping that included a bad mistake three out, but it has been a happy hunting ground to open his campaign in previous years. Harry Cobden will ride Jonbon – who has still yet to finish outside of the first two in his career to date – for the first time as owner JP McManus' retained jockey and the new combination have to be feared in a predictably small field for the Grade Two contest. Woodstock Octo's taking victory on debut under rules could be supported with another strong performance at Prestbury Park in the Albert Bartlett Novices' Hurdle. Trained by Kayley Woollacott, Woodstock Octo won by two and three-quarter lengths in Gloucestershire last month, beating the progressive Road To Wembley in the process. Six successive point-to-point wins came prior to the victory on his maiden racecourse start and he will be bouncing with confidence on his Cheltenham return. The six-year-old gelding is clearly unexposed and prefers sounder ground, which boosts his chances of extending his unbeaten start. Derryhassen Paddy can start to live up to his high expectations over fences with success in the Mucking Brilliant Paddy Power Novices' Chase. Lucinda Russell and Michael Scudamore's seven-year-old returned after nearly a year off when finishing third over course and distance last month and will benefit from that run. His only other chase start saw him four and a quarter lengths behind Scilly Isles Novices' Chase winner Sixmilebridge so he has been up against some decent opposition already. Thunder Rock returned to action with a convincing success against younger rivals at Perth and is one to be with in the Jilly Cooper Veterans' Handicap Chase. Trained by Olly Murphy, he was seven lengths clear on his seasonal reappearance in Scotland and can relish racing against his fellow seniors this time around. At Southwell, It Takes Two can build on her bumper second over course and distance on her debut over hurdles. She only found For Her Glory too good by a length and three-quarters and has not been seen since that run in May. Following a refresh, Alan King's four-year-old should be in the mix for the Festive Fixtures At Southwell Racecourse mares' Novices' Hurdle. Military Cross can make it fourth time lucky in his bid for the Christmas Parties At Sedgefield Racecourse Maiden Hurdle at Sedgefield. A former Flat operator for John and Thady Gosden, the Nathaniel gelding has had three successive runner-up finishes since switching codes with Sam England and can put those near-misses behind him in County Durham.
