ANNIVERSARY TO SPARK EPSOM CELEBRATION

By Tony Kelshaw, PA

Anniversary can again showcase his huge potential by taking the Betfred Derby 'Wild Card' EBF Conditions Stakes at Epsom. Ralph Beckett's juvenile went under the radar heading into what looked a hot Newmarket maiden last month, starting out as a 16-1 chance in a race previously won by the likes of Frankel and Motivator. However, he was always travelling nicely throughout that contest and came through strongly to take control during the final furlong, comfortably holding off Aidan O'Brien's fast-finishing Scandinavia. The runner-up has since disappointed at Doncaster but third-placed King Of Cities and fourth home Vecu have performed well enough to frank the form. Anniversary showed signs of greenness when initially asked to kick on by Rob Hornby but ultimately stormed ahead in a taking fashion and will surely only benefit from that experience and another six weeks to mature. Any recent rain should not be an issue, as his dam Lixirova won a Group Three contest on heavy ground in France as a two-year-old, while sire Sea The Moon scored on soft going. Kaiya Fraser has really come through as a rising star this term and would be a fitting winner of the Betfred Apprentices' Derby Handicap aboard Cambria Legend. James Fanshawe's gelding ran too freely at Kempton on his most recent start but had previously shown a liking for cut underfoot when scoring comfortably at Chester and the feeling is we have yet to see the best of him. Course form counts for a lot at this undulating circuit and so Dashinwhitesargent gets the nod in the Betfred Nifty 50 Handicap. Hughie Morrison's colt kept on well to reel in the favourite Celtic Warrior close home here last month and that pair pulled nicely clear of the rest that day. Over in Ireland, this year's Friends Of The Curragh Irish Cesarewitch provides punters with a typically tricky puzzle to solve but Nurburgring stands out. Joseph O'Brien's four-year-old fairly romped home in the Galway Hurdle at the start of August and ran a perfect trial for this contest when a staying-on fourth of 22 at Leopardstown back on the level. Heavens Gate can get back on track in the Weld Park Stakes following a slightly disappointing effort in the Lowther at York. She had previously powered home in a valuable sales race at Naas after being placed in Group-class company at Royal Ascot and Newmarket, while an earlier defeat of stablemate January at this venue has worked out well.
