WHISKY TONIC IN STORE

FOR NEWBURY FOLLOWERS

By Adam Morgan, Press Association

It could be a fine afternoon for Dan Skelton at Newbury, where his Getawhisky could be the toast of punters in the BetVictor British EBF 'NH' Mares' Novices' Hurdle. The six-year-old has always been well thought of and initially caught the eye on her second outing over timber at Ascot in November, falling when looking the most likely winner. She was none the worse for that when belatedly opening her account in a valuable Windsor event, with connections immediately suggesting a step up in trip and grade would prove no issue. Remaining at two miles at Market Rasen last time, she was outpaced after racing keenly in a race that was ultimately turned into a speed test in the home straight, with the reopposing Charisma Cat second and Watamu in third. However, that run did signal once and for all extra yardage is required and with the long home straight at Newbury ideal she could prove ahead of the assessor off a mark of only 119 in a race the Skeltons won with subsequent Mares' Hurdle winner Roksana in 2018. The Skelton team could also go back-to-back in the Goffs Hundred Grand Bumper where impressive Doncaster scorer Diamond Street can show he is a real gem for the future. Held up in rear on his Town Moor bow he looked a class apart as he went from first to last in sublime style, coasting 10 lengths clear. The Lodge Hill operation sent out the exciting Kadastral to win this last season and are unlikely to want to leave the #59,010 winner's cheque on the table as they seek to close out a first trainers' championship. They could have added just over #20,000 to the pot when track specialist Heltenham bids to follow up a recent course-and-distance triumph in the BetVictor Home Of The Saturday Superboost Handicap Chase - a race he won in both 2023 and 2024. Although 6lb higher than his win here last month, the second ran respectably at the Cheltenham Festival recently, with the third Teddy Blue winning a competitive event at Kempton to give the form a strong look and provide plenty of pointers towards another bold bid. Sticking with the Skelton theme, it will be interesting to see how Gambino fares on hurdling debut in the Castle Windows Newbury Anniversary Novices' Hurdle, having not been disgraced behind Constitution Hill in his famous Southwell Flat bow last month. At Kelso, Nicky Henderson's Khrisma is bordering on banker material as she seeks compensation for missing out on a run in the County Hurdle in the BetWright Herring Queen Series Final Mares' Novices' Handicap Hurdle. The Seven Barrows handler had long spoken of his desire to run the Market Rasen winner at the Cheltenham Festival but has been forced to seek an alternative having missed the cut. Nevertheless she brings a strong body of form to the table for a race where even the burden of 12st should prove no issue. Meanwhile at Bangor-on-Dee a tentative swing is taken at Olly Murphy's The Four Sixes, who has shown little on form of late but is searching for a repeat in the Virgin Bet Supports Safe Gambling Handicap Hurdle. He won the event last year on the back of some poor showings so a revival cannot be ruled out and while 4lb higher this time, he could be hard to peg back if allowed to stride on from the front.
