BLUE IS THE COLOUR AT WOLVES

By Nick Grant, Press Association Sport

James Tate's Blue Deveron looks the best bet on the card in the Join The Midnite Movement Novice Stakes at Wolverhampton. Unraced at two, he debuted over five furlongs at Southwell in January, only missing out by a neck to the vastly more experienced Filly Foden. Green when asked to challenge, before settling down to fight it out he will be all the better for that. In the Create Your Bet Builders At Midnite Handicap, Richard Hannon's Thecoffeepoddotco might be able to win again now she has got her head in front after winning at Lingfield. Starfighter can also be backed at the Dunstall Park circuit in the second division of the Midnite A Next Generation Betting App Classified Stakes over a mile and a half. He ran his best race for some time last time out and is still 4lb lower than his last winning mark, which came over this course and distance 12 months ago. The Clive Cox-trained Horwich has a very eye-catching career record of two wins from two starts and can remain unbeaten in the Read Meg Nicholls' Blog At Betmgm.Co.UK Handicap. A full-brother to Blackrod, who was rated 100 once upon a time for Michael Dods, Horwich has won twice over this course and distance already. A five-length winner under a penalty from an odds-on favourite last time out suggests he is well worth an opening mark of 77. The Joe Tizzard-trained Star Of Affinity can make it third time lucky over fences in the Howden Insurance Brokers Novices' Handicap Chase at Plumpton. The seven-year-old has three hurdles victories to his credit and has shown enough on his first couple of attempts over the larger obstacles to see him in front again soon. He was fourth on his fencing debut in what was a decent race at Chepstow and then picked up the silver medal at Wincanton. Running off the same mark of 111 and stepping up half a mile in trip, Star Of Affinity should make his presence felt. Tizzard might also find the target with Tennessee Tango in the More Radio Maiden Hurdle. Well beaten behind the prolific Sober Glory on his hurdling bow, the six-year-old has since undergone wind surgery and consequently performed much better the last twice, finishing third to Gentleman Toboot at Exeter and then to Mossy Fen Road at Chepstow. Those efforts just about set the standard in this company and a race like this should be within his compass. Kingston Narcissus is backed to follow up a Sedgefield Boxing Day success in the Bowel Screening Programme Saves Lives Handicap Hurdle at Catterick. The Rebecca Menzies-trained gelding has a consistent profile overall and the application of a tongue-tie helped him notch a second career win at his local course over the festive period. He is up 5lb in the weights, but may not have reached his ceiling just yet.

SELECTIONS:

PLUMPTON: 1.45 Star Of Affinity, 2.15 Pachacuti, 2.45 Tennessee Tango,
