SCILLY TO IGNORE KALIF DU BERLAIS CHANCE AT SANDOWN

By Anita Chambers, PA

Kalif Du Berlais can prove himself a Grade One star for Paul Nicholls with victory in the Virgin Bet Scilly Isles Novices' Chase at Sandown. This four-runner contest is certainly not the strongest for a race of this level, but Kalif Du Berlais can take full advantage of the small field and conditions that favour him as a five-year-old. He has an official mark of 152, just 11lb behind top-rated Jango Baie, but his age allowance gives him a 4lb pull which could prove crucial in what will be testing ground. Kalif Du Berlais was a Grade Two winner over hurdles last year and while his initial chase start at Carlisle in November ended in a heavy fall, he has bounced back subsequently with handicap victories at both Newbury and Cheltenham. He was particularly impressive in winning by over nine lengths on the latter occasion, with the runner-up having subsequently franked the form with his own cosy victory. Stepping up to two and a half miles looks sure to suit and he can continue on his upward curve. Dartmoor Pirate hit the bar on Boxing Day but can go one place better in the Virgin Bet Heroes Handicap Hurdle. Placed in Grade Three company as the highlight of his novice campaign last term, Anthony Honeyball tried him over fences on his seasonal bow but his jumping lacked any real fluency and a swift return to hurdles was made. That nearly yielded a Wincanton win in Pertemps qualifier, when he was putting in all his best work at the end of an extended three miles on good to soft ground that was probably not ideal. A 3lb rise for that effort does not look insurmountable and a trip just short of three miles on deep ground should not trouble him. Sole Solution is another who will relish the conditions in the Virgin Bet Daily Price Boosts Novices' Handicap Hurdle. Successful at Hereford, he previously chased home the impressive Cheltenham winner Sixmilebridge and a starting mark of 114 is appealing. Intense Approach can headline the Cheltenham trials action at Musselburgh. He lines up in the bet365 Scottish Stayers' Novices' Hurdle on what will be his first start since October, when he hacked up by six lengths over three miles at Cheltenham. That was his third win in his last five starts, with all of his best form coming on better ground, which he looks likely to get at the Edinburgh venue. It is a big weekend in Ireland with the Dublin Racing Festival taking place and it will be a huge shock if Galopin Des Champs does not make it a hat-trick in the Paddy Power Irish Gold Cup. He has an exceptional record around Leopardstown, winning six of his seven starts there, and already has the beating of his major rivals here this term.
