HERE 'S JOHNNY FOR ASCOT BACKERS

By Nick Robson, PA

Johnnywho should be suited by the drop in trip for the Howden Noel Novices' Chase at Ascot. Having been campaigned at largely three miles over hurdles, he made his chasing debut over two and a half at Carlisle and looked a natural. However, over the same trip at Newbury The Jukebox Man took him out of his comfort zone as he stretched the field with his exuberant jumping and Johnnywho could never quite get on terms. He made a mistake at the third-last and after that his race was over, before weakening to be beaten just over 10 lengths by the impressive winner. Down a furlong in trip here against lesser opposition, he can add another nice prize for the in-form Jonjo and AJ O'Neill. Harry Cobden can return from a few days on the sidelines with a winner courtesy of Belliano in the Howden Maiden Hurdle. A winning point-to-pointer, he changed hands for a whopping #255,000 at Tattersalls December Sales last year. He made his debut under rules at Chepstow in October and time may tell he faced a very stiff task up against Dan Skelton's The New Lion. There is still a chance Neil Mulholland's Double Powerful is a step ahead of the handicapper despite winning six on the bounce. He attempts to make it seven in the Howden Conditional Jockeys' Handicap Hurdle - but this is a hot race for its type and the value call has to be to take him on. One who we certainly have not seen the best of yet is Nicky Henderson's East India Express. He lost little in defeat when second to Making Headway off level weights in February and on his only other outing he departed at halfway at the Punchestown Festival. The fact Henderson even sent him over for that suggests he thinks he is a bit better than a mark of 123 and he is the chosen runner of a handful of entries from the powerful yard. His stablemate Iberico Lord takes another step in his education over fences in the Howden Novices' Limited Handicap Chase. While hardly flawless on his chasing debut, his jumping did warm up in the home straight and the quicker he went the better it got. He won the Betfair Hurdle last season beating L'Eau Du Sud, who is now a Grade One winner over fences yet Iberico Lord was too strong for him giving him 5lb.
