Gstaad can cash in on Champions Day

By Nick Grant, Press Association

Another stellar cast has been assembled for British Champions Day at Ascot and Gstaad is picked to play a starring role in the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes. Pretty much all year Gstaad has had to play second best to Bow Echo, finishing directly behind George Boughey's now-retired champion three times, including in the 2000 Guineas at Newmarket and the St James's Palace at the Royal meeting. He had his deserved day in the sun at the Curragh in the Irish Guineas, and while he was only third in the Prix du Moulin he might have needed it having been off since suffering a nasty cut when beaten by Bow Echo in the Sussex Stakes.

Aidan O'Brien had talked about going up in trip for the Champion Stakes but has elected to stick at what is a stiff mile on ground perfect for him. Calandagan looks the safest proposition in the aforementioned Champion Stakes, as he seeks to defend his crown against opposition undoubtedly from the top drawer but who have questions to answer. The globetrotting gelding had only Kalpana in front of him when trying to win the King George for the second time and has been kept fresh for an end-of-season campaign that is likely to include another crack at the Japan Cup.

His trainer Francis-Henri Graffard takes some stopping these days in the top races. No horse has been able to better Kalpana in the last two running of the Fillies & Mares Stakes and it is hard to envisage anything stopping her hat-trick bid. In fact she is probably the 'banker' of the day, as she absolutely loves Ascot and was hardly disgraced in the Arc. If she is anything like her best - and she would not be running if that was not the case - she can raise the roof. Almeraq must surely be hard to beat in the British Champions Sprint.

The William Haggas-trained Royal Ascot winner has never looked better than when running away with the Sprint Cup at Haydock. His only disappointment this year was on ground deemed too quick for him in the July Cup. With Scandinavia an absentee, the Long Distance Cup is a bit of a puzzle. Everything should really point to Caballo De Mar, but he has had a long - if successful - year and perhaps Joseph O'Brien's St Leger winner Highwayman might outspeed him late on.

An each-way double to bookend the card might also give an interest, as Saeed bin Suroor's Victory Gold has enough form in the book to give him claims in the opening British Champions Day Two-Year-Old Conditions Stakes, while Hickory is worth a dart in the lucky last, the Balmoral Handicap. He has appeared an incredible 15 times at Ascot, getting his head in front on four occasions at a course his jockey Saffie Osborne rides as good as anyone.

SELECTIONS:

ASCOT:	12.55 Victory Gold, 1.30 Highwayman, 2.05 Almeraq, 2.40 KALPANA (NAP) , 3.20 Gstaad, 4.00 Calandagan, 4.35 Hickory.
