Ice chance for Skelton at Kelso

By Nick Robson, PA

Ice Jet can take advantage of his light weight to come out on top against more established rivals in the NSPCC School Service Handicap Chase at Kelso. Only a four-year-old, Dan Skleton has sent him over fences early and it already looks a wise decision. Winner of three of his seven outings over hurdles, he obliged at the third time of asking over fences, earning a rating of 127. Never one to miss an opportunity, Skelton has spied a £40,000 prize and with top-weight Tommy's Oscar a regular in this contest, he will have known his youngster will be in receipt of almost a couple of stone.

Fairlawn Skipper has been in good form for Mickey Bowen and looks the safest option in the Scottish Racing Academy Handicap Chase. He might have only won twice over hurdles but they were two of his last four runs over timber before he went chasing. Bowen sent him to Kelso for his chasing debut where he got the better of a protracted duel with Limerick Leader over an extended two-mile-five-furlongs.

He now goes right up in trip to three and a quarter miles, but stamina looks to be his forte. Tuppence looks a good opportunity for Lucas Murphy to bag another winner in the Justin & Susan Greig Novices' Hurdle. The Lucinda Russell and Michael Scudamore-trained six-year-old won under the same young jockey when last seen at the Scottish Grand National meeting and can resume his progress.

Skelton should also be on the mark close to home at Uttoxeter with Country Mile in the F Ball Stick With It Chasing Excellence Beginners' Chase. He never quite reached the heights that once maybe looked likely over hurdles and failed to hit the target in his first two outings over fences. He has not run for nearly a year so has clearly had a problem but only has two to beat.

Larzac can give Harry Cobden a winner in the JP McManus colours in the second division of the F Ball 140th Anniversary Maiden Hurdle. Now with Faye Bramley having been with Willie Mullins, this represents a significant drop in class. Of course all eyes will be on Paris where there is a strong UK and Irish contingent in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe.

Home favourite Daryz is aiming to become the first colt since Alleged in the late 1970s to win it twice in a row, but with Diamond Necklace given the "visitors" draw in stall 16 and Maltese Cross wide enough in 11, it might be that Kalpana caps a brilliant season. She has already beaten the boys once in the King George at Ascot when she was deadly and while she only just held on in the Yorkshire Oaks last time out, that was a strange race with the pacemaker blazing off. In stall six, Colin Keane should be able to bounce her out and keep a close eye on the favourite.
