LOVE OLIVIA LOOKS WORTH FOLLOWING AT YORK By Anita Chambers, PA

Love Olivia made an immediate impact on her all-weather bow and can make a swift leap to Listed level in the Clipper EBF Marygate Fillies' Stakes at York. Trained by Karl Burke, Love Olivia was a 140,000 guineas purchase for Amo Racing as a yearling, with her dam hailing from the family of Stepper Point and her sire Havana Grey a constant source of classy runners. She breezed home by seven and a half lengths at Wolverhampton in a four-runner contest, with the size and quality of that field clearly open to question. Love Olivia could only beat what was put in front of her though and given she still appeared to have plenty to learn, there is every chance she can make another leap forward here and book a Royal Ascot ticket. Glittering Surf is similarly taking to the turf for the first time in the Listed Sky Bet Fillies' Stakes, better known as the Michael Seely. She is two from two for Owen Burrows so far, winning over a mile at Kempton on her debut in December before adding a repeat course-and-distance success in March. Glittering Surf showed versatility in tactics in those victories, racing prominently first time and coming from off the pace on the second occasion, but displayed plenty of ability in both runs. Burrows has earmarked the Coronation Stakes as a possible aim and victory here should seal that Ascot target. The Boodles Yorkshire Cup Stakes has drawn a field of just five and it looks a potentially trappy contest, with the stamina of likely favourite Rebel's Romance far from proven, while Sweet William is having his first start of the year on ground that might not be ideal and Continuous has struggled to really find his best since winning the St Leger two years ago. So perhaps it could pay to take a chance on Epic Poet, who has plenty to find on the ratings but arrives with a handful of positives in his favour. David O'Meara's charge arrives race fit having run with credit in Dubai in the early part of the year, winning at Meydan in January, claiming an excellent second in the Red Sea Turf in Riyadh and then taking third in the Dubai Gold Cup on his most recent start. Two miles possibly stretched his reserves that day, with this drop back to 14 furlongs in his favour and the likely quick ground also of no concern. Crown Of Oaks is another to note on the Knavesmire as he contests the Darley EBF ``Confined'' Novice Stakes. Third in each of his two starts for William Haggas so far, he did not enjoy much luck in running on the latter occasion and can reverse form with the reopposing Point Of Contact.
