WHISKEY JUST THE TONIC AT FFOS LAS

By Nick Robson, PA

Whiskey Yankee can benefit from a significant drop in class in the Celtic Subaru Novices' Hurdle at Ffos Las. He has an unusual pedigree for a jumper given his sire is Hunter's Light, a Group One winner on the Flat in Dubai, although his dam was a winner over jumps in France and clearly provides the stamina. Second to the useful Starzand in a bumper this time last year, he was not seen again until winning on his hurdling debut at Ascot in January.

That looked decent form with several big yards represented, including Harry Derham whose well-regarded runner The Burren Man was back in fourth. Sam Thomas then sent him into battle in a Grade Two at Haydock where he was not totally disgraced in finishing fifth of nine in a trial for the Albert Bartlett.

He should find this a good deal easier. Big City Roller is all about stamina and three miles at Ffos Las in the Amroth Bay Caravan Park ``Welsh Gold Cup'' Handicap Chase should be suitable. A point-to-point winner for Tom Ellis, he joined Charlie Longsdon and won a novice hurdle at the first time of asking.

He also won on his chasing debut at Bangor in February last year but was not seen again until January at Exeter. An easy winner in first-time cheekpieces at Lingfield, he was back hurdling last time out but the ground was too quick and he should find the soft going more to his liking here.

Fern O'Brien might get a good tune out of Queen Of Steel for her father, Fergal, and they can oblige in the 3A's Leisure Caravans And Motorhomes Conditional Jockeys' Mares' Handicap Hurdle. Plenty of jockeys have ridden Queen Of Steel down the years but O'Brien has waited until now to call on the services of his daughter.

Narrowly beaten last time out, she has a rise in the weights to contend with but is clearly in good heart. Joe Tizzard saw several of his horses outrun their odds at Cheltenham last week, so his string clearly remain on good terms and Kool Kid can follow up a recent win by taking the BetGoodwin Handicap Chase at Plumpton.

After several good runs this season, he was finally rewarded with a win at this course last time out. He runs over a little bit further here, almost a furlong, but that should not be a problem. Eliza Dolittle is another last-time-out winner worth following in the BetGoodwin Best Odds Guaranteed Handicap Hurdle. She has a 7lb rise to overcome for a course-and-distance win last month but she was an easy victor and can go in again.

Andrew Balding's Ted Le Saux looks capable of defying a penalty in the Win #250,000 With BetMGM's Golden Goals Novice Stakes. The son of Cracksman was narrowly beaten on his debut at Lingfield in December over 10 furlongs before he was an impressive winner over a mile at Newcastle in January. While the second has not done much for the form, Ted Le Saux won with a fair bit up his sleeve.
