BANK ON NEON MOON TO SHINE AT ASCOT

By Anita Chambers, PA

Neon Moon can step up on a recent Ascot run to land the Join Ladbrokes Bet #5 Get #30 Handicap Chase back at that track. David Pipe's charge made his seasonal return in a Grade Three contest at the Berkshire venue earlier this month when he ran well for a long way over three miles before dropping away at the finish to be beaten just over six lengths in fifth place. That was the nine-year-old's first outing since May and while he has won at the trip, he has also proved effective around the two-mile-five-furlong distance he faces here. Rated 136 at his peak last season, Neon Moon is now back down to a mark of 129 and can take full advantage on ground that should suit. Lucky Place gets his career over fences under way in the Get Your Ladbrokes Free Ascot Bet 'Chasing Excellence' Beginners' Chase. Nicky Henderson had initially intended to send the six-year-old chasing last season but after making a winning return in the Ascot Hurdle at this very meeting, the Seven Barrows team changed direction and he remained over the smaller obstacles. The decision yielded a further Grade Two strike in the Relkeel Hurdle at Cheltenham but the Stayers' Hurdle proved a step too far and he was possibly past his best by the time he lined up in the Select Hurdle in April. If he can transfer his hurdles mark of 153, he is well ahead of the opposition. Reckless Spending lines up for the same connections in the Safer Gambling Week ``National Hunt'' Maiden Hurdle and is another to note. A #200,000 purchase after finishing second in a point-to-point last October, his inexperience looked to cost him second place on his initial bumper run in May but he still shaped with promise. Grade Two winner Fortune De Mer looks the class act in the Ascot Partners Handicap Hurdle. Sent off a 14-1 chance at Cheltenham, he just clung on to victory in race that was not particularly strong for the grade and his initial mark of 126 gives Dan Skelton plenty to work with. Lundi Noir should be fit for action in the Lynne Fletcher Memorial Handicap Hurdle at Chepstow. He returned from a 234-day break to finish third here last month and will surely improve for that four-length defeat. The fact Sturlasson is 3lb wrong in the weights for the Midnite: Built For 2025 Not 2005 Handicap might not be enough to stop him at Southwell. West Acre's presence at the top of the handicap means Sturlasson must shoulder 8st 7lb but he is a horse in excellent heart having finished in the first four in each of his five starts for John Ryan, including wins at Southwell in September and Yarmouth in October. He looked a bit of an unlucky loser when a one-length second at Newcastle on his most recent start.
