TIME FOR CONSTITUTION TO PROVE HE IS NOT OVER THE HILL

By Nick Grant, PA

Where to start with the BetMGM Fighting Fifth Hurdle at Newcastle? The only thing that can be said for certain is that this is the race of the year so far, as Constitution Hill, The New Lion and Anzadam meet in a blockbuster clash. All three camps are making the right noises, but perhaps more with heart than head, the pick is Constitution Hill, the deposed champion. He has more questions to answer than his market rivals after horror shows at Cheltenham, Aintree and Punchestown - but equally, unlike the others, he has been and there and most definitely done it. The New Lion is feared most, but if we are to take Nicky Henderson at his word then the former champion is ready to roar back to his brilliant best. The New Lion team should already be on the board by then, however, with Le Beau Madrik having shown more than enough in two bumpers to make him a confident pick to make a winning start to jumping in the BetMGM EBF 'National Hunt' Maiden Hurdle. There are some promising types lining up in the Weatherbys And Birdie Calendars 'The French Furze' Novices' Hurdle but perhaps none more so than Out Of The Woods. Trained by the Lucinda Russell and Michael Scudamore partnership, this five-year-old won one of his two bumpers before fairly bolting up on his hurdling debut. He carries a penalty for that but he looks a smart prospect. It would be cruel on The Changing Man if he finds one too good in the Coral Gold Cup, aka the Hennessy, at Newbury. He hails from a yard in fine form in that of Joe Tizzard, has a definite touch of class and hardly ever underperforms - all qualities that will serve him well in this historic handicap. Winner of the Reynoldstown at Ascot last season, he was second in the Great Yorkshire at Doncaster before that, then second at Cheltenham and third to Caldwell Potter at Aintree. His return at Ascot at the turn of the month was a typically solid run, beaten only by Henry's Friend, and he is only a smidgen higher in the weights for it. Indeevar Bleu looks more than capable of playing a leading role for the Olly Murphy yard in the Coral Racing Club Intermediate Handicap Hurdle (Gerry Feilden). He is 6lb higher than when last seen winning at Ffos Las back in April, but that was a ready success and he has the assistance of the irrepressible Sean Bowen. David Pipe having a hotpot turned over at Kempton on Monday dents a bit of confidence in Kingston Queen for the Play Coral 'Racing-Super-Series' Mares' Novices' Hurdle, but she nevertheless gets the vote. Third in the big bumper for mares at the Grand National meeting, she was well on top at the finish to win on her hurdling debut and should be even better for that experience.
