Aperoll the one to beat at Goodwood

By Ashley Iveson, Press Association

Aperoll can continue her ascent up the juvenile ladder with victory in the Virgin Bet Prestige Fillies' Stakes at Goodwood. Trainer Richard Hannon was effusive in his praise of the Ghaiyyath filly following her winning debut at Newbury in July and that form has worked out extremely well, with the second, third and fourth all winning at least once since. Aperoll then stepped up to take on the boys at Royal Ascot and only enhanced her reputation in finishing a close third, having set out to make all the running. She got back on the winning trail in the Listed Star Stakes at Sandown last month, albeit by a diminishing neck having again race enthusiastically on the front end throughout. Her keen going running style suggests she should be better suited by this less demanding track and she should prove hard to beat. Hannon might also find the target in the Tattersalls EBF Novice Stakes with the promising Somerton. This juvenile shaped with plenty of encouragement when third on his Sandown introduction just over five weeks ago, just lacking a gear to go with the first two in the last of seven furlongs. He looks ready for a step up to the mile he encounters on the Sussex Downs and with normal improvement he ought to be heavily involved in the finish. Principality can continue his run of good form for trainer Harry Eustace in the Virgin Bet Handicap. The four-year-old won in far more testing conditions over this course and distance last summer and returns having won two of his last three starts, most recently triumphing on a quick surface at Newmarket. He is clearly versatile ground-wise and a 2lb rise for his latest success looks more than fair. The William Hill Beverley Bullet is the main event on the Westwood and the vote goes to John and Sean Quinn's high-class sprinter JM Jungle. The six-year-old has not managed to get his head in front since striking Group Two gold in the King George Stakes at Goodwood last summer, but he has been competing against some of the best horses in the division. He was not beaten far when defending his Goodwood title on his penultimate start and also performed creditably in first-time blinkers in the Nunthorpe at York last week, where he did much of his running on what turned out to be the wrong side of the track. Dropping back down in grade, JM Jungle looks a solid proposition. Michael Dods has his string in fine form and can add to his August tally with Count Palatine in the Ward Homes Yorkshire Handicap. The Profitable gelding handles soft ground and arrives here in good form having successfully defended his crown in a seven-furlong race at Carlisle. The William Haggas-trained Kinswoman has been a bit disappointing so far this year, but is backed to come good in the Bodhi Solutions – Exceeding Expectations In Construction Handicap at Yarmouth. A half-sister to several winners including Lockinge hero Audience, this four-year-old won three times last season but has come up short so far this term. That being said, she has run in Listed and Group Three company and was beaten less than three lengths when favourite for the Dash at Epsom on Derby day. Now 5lb lower, she is weighted to go close.
