NOTE:

We will no longer be accepting any One by Two (1x2) Bets. However you could have more Wins than Place Bets. (No more Place than Win). Also we will not be paying on 5th place any more only on special races.

BROADWAY CAN PUT ON WINNING SHOW

By Ashley Iveson, PA

Broadway Boy can come of age with victory in the Coral Gold Cup at Newbury. Nigel and Willy Twiston-Davies in particular have never made any secret of the regard in which the six-year-old is held at their Naunton yard and he has so far largely lived up to his tall reputation. Having won three of his seven starts over hurdles, Broadway Boy enjoyed a fine novice campaign over fences last term, also winning three times including a couple of big-race victories at Cheltenham. He was sent off favourite for his seasonal reappearance at Prestbury Park in October and ran a fine race under 11st 11lb to finish third behind Henry de Bromhead's pair of Senior Chief and The Short Go. Senior Chief is again in opposition at Newbury, but Broadway Boy is significantly better off at the weights, and with some cut in the ground to suit, a bold bid is expected. Course and distance winner Listentoyourheart gets the nod in the curtain-raising Play Coral 'Racing-Super-Series' For Free Mares' Novices' Hurdle. Twice second in Listed company in bumpers last term, Dan Skelton's charge has carried that form through to the jumping game, bolting up by 21 lengths on her hurdling bow at Market Rasen before comfortably following up at this track just over three weeks ago. This Listed event represents a much tougher assignment, with Irish raider Sansrisk setting the standard on ratings, but Listentoyourheart is open to further progress and the fact she has already proved her liking for Newbury has to be viewed as a plus. Skelton might also be on the mark in the 'We're Here For It' Novices' Hurdle, with the hugely-exciting The New Lion bidding to extend his unbeaten record to three. Impressive on his bumper debut at Market Rasen, the Kayf Tara gelding again looked well above average when slamming expensive point-to-point recruit Belliano over hurdles at Chepstow last month. The victory clearly came as no surprise to his trainer, who admitted he thought his charge was potentially top class and immediately raised the Challow Hurdle as a potential winter target. This race looks an ideal stepping-stone to that Grade One contest back at this venue over Christmas. It will be fascinating to see whether Salver can carry top-weight to victory in the Coral Racing Club Intermediate Handicap Hurdle, better known as the Gerry Feilden. Gary and Josh Moore's four-year-old was one of the star performers in the juvenile division last season, winning his first four starts including 21-length demolition job in the Grade Two Finale Juvenile Hurdle at Chepstow. He signed off his campaign by finishing third in a heavy ground Triumph Hurdle at the Cheltenham Festival and connections have been keen to point out he must have testing conditions to be seen at his best. Thankfully, having missed Ascot last weekend on account of unsuitable ground, the weather appears to have turned in his favour ahead of Saturday's assignment. It is no easy task giving weight to his elders, but he should go well nonetheless. The BetMGM Fighting Fifth Hurdle is the showpiece event of the season at Newcastle and while the absence of Constitution Hill is undoubtedly a blow, the Grade One feature instead throws up an intriguing clash between his stablemate Sir Gino and Irish raider Mystical Power. While Sir Gino missed the Triumph Hurdle last term, he looked every inch a top-class prospect in winning his other three starts for Nicky Henderson, including a Grade One success at Aintree. The Willie Mullins-trained Mystical Power was a star performer in all-aged novice events, with a runner-up finish in the Supreme at Cheltenham followed by back-to-back top-level triumphs at Aintree and Punchestown respectively. There is only 2lb between the pair on official ratings and they are hard to split, but with some members of the Mullins string tending to need a run this autumn, narrow preference is for Sir Gino, who looked the part in a recent racecourse gallop with Constitution Hill and might have a fitness edge. Following a recent win at Newbury, Ben Pauling's Bowtogreatness should give another good account of himself in the BetMGM Rehearsal Handicap Chase.
