UNDERSTUDY CAN TAKE OVER AT LINGFIELD

By Anita Chambers, PA

Understudy can finally take a starring role when she lines up for the BetMGM River Eden EBF Fillies' Stakes at Lingfield. Winner of a Southwell novice on her second start in May, John and Thady Gosden took a brave route on her next start, pitching the daughter of Sea The Stars into the Ribblesdale Stakes at Royal Ascot. Sent off a 40-1 chance in what was a weak renewal of the Group Two, Understudy outran her odds to finish second to Garden Of Eden - a run which saw her rating lifted to 102 and saw her confined to Listed company and above. Well held in the Aphrodite Stakes subsequently, she has since posted better efforts when fourth in a Deauville Group Three and at the same level at Newmarket last time, with that second of those runs all the more creditable given she was hampered in the closing stages. Understudy was staying on the way to the line that day over a mile and a half, which offers plenty of encouragement upped a further furlong here and with the weights firmly in her favour. Sky Safari can make the leap from handicaps to Listed glory in the BetMGM Fleur De Lys EBF Fillies' Stakes. She has bounced back in style from a lacklustre Royal Ascot run in June, winning her two most recent starts for James Fanshawe at Kempton in both July and September. Her second victory was particularly noteworthy, winning the London Mile Series Final in decent style and extending her perfect all-weather record to four wins in as many starts in the process. Raised 8lb for that win, Sky Safari will have to improve again to take this event but she is a filly on the improve who is clearly well at home on the surface. Crazierthandaisy was set a stiff task on her final run of last term, contesting a thoroughly competitive handicap final at Punchestown and she failed to put her best foot forward, coming home 10th and beaten 18 lengths. Nicky Henderson has lowered her sights on her seasonal return, with Warwick's Chapel Stud Supporting Breeders' Day Mares' Handicap Hurdle looking a more suitable engagement. Hillcrest's once promising career has been derailed by a series of setbacks but he can secure his first win since February 2022 in the Warwick Supports British Breeding Veterans' Handicap Chase. Henry Daly's charge looked a potential star when winning four of his six novice hurdle starts but this giant of horse then suffered a leg injury that saw him miss two seasons and he just never really managed to put it all together in four chase runs last term, with his jumping letting him down. Now a 10-year-old, Hillcrest qualifies for veteran status and his mark of 130 - some 18lb lower than his hurdles high - makes some appeal with soft ground in his favour.
